THE GOLD BRICK PEOPLE.

EMERY, THE NEW YORK "SPORT," ALLOWED TO GO FREE.

Negris, the Granger Detective, Still in Jail-He Does Not Love the Pinkertons and Expresses His Opinion Freely.

Nothing short of a glowing imagination could picture a more colossal imbrogilo than that which has developed out of the swindling of Mr. A. W. Withers, of Gloucester, Detectives, victums, attorneys and witnesses have all helped to make and witnesses have all helped to make the case a sort of criminal Brunswick stew, so to speak, and more than one person was arrested upon the charge of being a suspicious character, simply because he got mixed up some way or other in the gold brick muddle.

In yesterday's Times was printed an account of the visit of Detective Robert A. Pinkerton, of New York, to this city, and what he had to say about Norris, the Granger detective who is now in jail here, and Samuel Emery, the New York bookmaker, who was recently arrested for trying to get Parker, alias Smith, the gold-brick and tin-box operator, out of jail.

As a sequel to the conference held be, tween Detective Pinkerton and Commonwealth's Attorney H. M. Smith, Emery was yesterday discharged by Justice Crutchfield, and Mr. L. O. Wendenburg, the bookmaker's counsel and bondsman, released from his obligation as surety in the sum of $1,000 for the appearance of the bookmaker in the Police Court on January 17th. Emery appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning, together with his counsel, Mr. Wendenburg, and Commonwealth's Attorney Smith. The latter stated that he had come to ask for the distance of Emery and for the distance of Emery and for the distance of the charge of being a suspicious character, which had been entered against him.

Mr. Smith said he submitted this motion as prosecuting attorney in the case.

Mr. Smith said he submitted this mo-tion as prosecuting attorney in the case. He had been convinced by information receiver from Detective Pinkerton that this action was proper, and he had the approval of Ghief of Police Poe in the matter. Justice Crutchfield accordingly ordered the release of the prisoner, who left the court-room at once with his at-

Commonwealth's Attorney Smith and Chief of Police Poe stated that the in-formation received from Detective Pin, kerton in the case justified the release of Emery.

The Granger detective, John T. Norris, meantime bears his incarceration cheerfully enough. He talks very freely to the representatives of the press who call upon him from time to time, and seems perfectly willing to tell them everything they ask him in connection with the case. When I inquired of him as to the movements and whereabouts of the man or men who got away, the detective shook his head, and said he would rather not discuss that subject. From what I have learned of the case I am of the opinion that Norris' arrest and incarceration is that Norris' arrest and incarceration is due to the movements of the Pinkertons, who are certainly doing all in their power against him. There really appears to be no evidence to indicate that Norris is in league with the bunco men. Chief-of-Police Poe. when asked vastarday if he Mee Poe, when asked yesterday if he thought there was any evidence against the Granger detective, replied that he dld not know of anything to implicate Norris in the gold-brick swindle, but was of the opinion that the Springfield man is a shakedown and blackmailer.

SAYS HE HAS CAUGHT THEM. When told yesterday that Mr. Robert Pinkerton said that he (Norris) had never run down and captured any of these confidence men, the Granger detective said: "I can point Mr. Pinkerton to a large number of these men that I have caught." He then gave the following list of confidence men he had been instru-mental in convicting; Lou Hank, who was sent to the Ohio pentientiary for life for killing Powell Lohman over a game of cards. He was pardoned by Governor Campbell.

Ike Levi and George Haight, who served terms in the Mississippi penitentiary. John Sweeney, a gold-brick man, who operated in Watertown, N. Y. George Post and Tom O'Brien, who were convicted in New York State. He followed O'Brien all over this country and Europe, but finally captured him, and he was sentenced for a term of years, but escaped.

In addition to these he named a number of others, an also gave the following places where the bunco men had for-fetted their ball bonds:

At Pittsfield, Ill., 310,000; Ottawa, Ill., 316,000 (Parker ls the man who jumped here, and Mike Daly and Jeremiah Cockran, of Chicago, were the bondsmen); Hamilton, Can., where the chief-of-police received $2,000 as a bribe; Lew Ludium and Tom O'Brien each jumped a $5,000 bond at Hartford, Conn.

He stated that the spurious gold-bricks which the bunco men used in their swindling operations were not all sent from New York city. Some of them were secured from Pittsburg and other places, and a large number of them were made near Roanoke, Va., and sent to New York for distribution. York for distribution among the gang. which numbers about ten.

THE WAR WITH THE PINKERTONS.

In speaking of the war between himself and the Pinkertons the Granger detective said: "Robert Pinkerton, of New York, is not at the bottom of this enmity to me. It is his brother, Billy Pinkerton, of Chicago, who has a bad reputation out in Illinois and Ohio. I won a libel suit against Billy Pinkerton some time ago. Billy Pinkerton owns part of the Boston Police News. He blackguarded me in that sheet, and also in the People, a paper published in Indianapolis, Ind. Owing to a civil suit I won against Billy Pinkerton he is even to this day very cautious about coming into the State of Ohio, where I hold a warrant for his arrest.

"The Pinkertons see the THE WAR WITH THE PINKERTONS.

"The Pinkertons say I never captured one of these confidence men, do they? Well, let apy one communicate with the efficers at the prisons I have mentioned and they will find out the truth. Did the Pinkertons ever catch one? No; they win't try to catch them. The confidence men know most of the principal thieves and burglars. They keep the Pinkertons posted in such matters, and get the Pinkertons' protection in return."

TO RUILD GOOD ROADS,

An Important Meeting Held with That as a Purpose.

The general board of the Virginia State Good Roads Association met last evening in the gentlemen's parlor of the Exchange Hotel. Mr. H. W. Anderson, first vice-president, called the meeting to order, and the following members were present:

Orris A. Browne, second district; C. E. Ashbutne, third district; C. T. Lassiter, fourth district; George Young, fifth district; H. A. Gillis, sixth district; G. W. Parbour, eighth district.

Mr. Anderson stated that he had a letter from Major J. Hoge Tyler, who was elected president of the Association, offering his resignation, for business reasons which he himself fully understood, and suggested that it be accepted, and his puccessor at once elected.

THE PERSIDENT.

Mr. Joseph Bryan's name was suggested, and enthusiastically accepted. Mr. Bryan was telephoned to, and agreed to take the office, with its responsibilities, if every member of the general board would every member. every member of the general board would pledge his active support. He was requested to come to the meeting, and on his arrival wan-informed that he had been unanimously elected, and that they had pledged him facir best efforts in forwarding the purposes of the organization. Mr. Hryan made them a practical address, and gave them to understand that it would take close, active work, and that the most they could expect to do for some time, at least, was to educate the public mind to the advantages and the beat methods of making good roads, and to work on the Logislature for assistance. He referred to the movement of settlers from the Northwest to the South, and said that if the Association could make it appear that the State was alive and intended to make things attractive, then they could bring them direct to Virginia, and that all the questions of civilization, advancement and improvement were wrapped up in the good roads movement.

MADE SUGGESTIONS.

Mr. Anderson then made a very full and exhaustive report, as acting president, of the operation of the society, and giving a synopsis of a large amount of information gathered, as well as suggestions for the future work of the Association. He suggested that district and county associations be formed all over the State, and that a capable man be employed at $1,200 a year to visit the various parts of the State and present the matter to the people; that literature should be disributed direct to the people, and everything done to educate the public mind.

It was brought out in the discussion that General Stone, of the roads department of the United States Agricultural Department, had given great aid in printing and disseminating the information published by the Association, and that the aid of the department would be further depended on in this direction.

Mr. Anderson expressed the opinion that

Mr. Anderson expressed the opinion that Mr. Anderson expressed the opinion that $2,500 a year ought to be raised for the operations of the society, and that when it became known that they were in earnest and intended to do something they would be able to secure the contributions needed. A canvass was made of those present, and they all agreed that by a proper division this amount could be raised. As a first move in the right direction the initiation fee and annual dues, which had been twenty-five cents, was raised to one dollar. raised to one dollar.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The fiscal year was then fixed to end the 31st of December, and the annual meetings to take place between the 1st of September and the 1st of November, at such date as may be selected by the Executive Committee. This arrangement was adopted, so as to have the meetings here during the time of the State Agricultural Fair.

When the question of electing a secre-ANNUAL MEETING.

When the question of electing a secretary was brought up Captain Orris A. Browne suggested that there should be two men instead of one; that an efficient secretary was needed to do the correspondence and other work, and that it was equally important to secure a good speaker, who could present the objects of the association to the confidence of the people. When the question of electing a secre

Anderson, who was chiefly instrumental in originating the movement, and who has shown not only great enthuand was has shown het only great siasm for the work, but marked ability in organizing the movement, was requested to accept the position of pard secretary at $1,200 a year, provided the financial plans were successfully carried out. Mr. Anderson was elected, and time given Cartain. him to consider the proposition. Captain Orris A. Browne advocated the employ-ment of Colonel Whitehead, the Commissioner of Agriculture, to present the objects of the association to the people of the State at large.

COLONIL WHITEHEAD. The idea was enthusiastically accepted, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it is very important that the objects of this association should be presented forcibly and clearly to the people at large throughout the State, and to this end some efficient person should be employed for the purpose; Resolved, That the Excutive Committee is authorized to employ the Hon. Thomas Whitehead on such terms as may be agreed upon by him to present to the people of the State in all parts the objects and claims of this association for their support and confidence; this arrangement to be made with the compant of the State made with the coreent of the State Board of Agriculture.

The members of the general board were then requested to confer with the men bers of the Board of Agriculture in their respective districts to secure their co-operation in the good roads movement. After a full discussion it was decided that the most practical way to collect the needed funds was to secure the assistance of the boards of supervisors in the various counties and the members of the Legislature, and the secretary was instructed to currently with them on the of the Legislature, and the secretary was instructed to correspond with them on the subject.

Mr. C. E. Ashburner was continued as secretary and treasurer until the regular paid officer takes charge.

The meeting last evening was of the most enthusiastic and practical characters and the secretary and the secretary and treasurer until the regular paid officer takes charge.

tion upon the death of Miss Wigglesworth.

The unexpected death of this lady at the close of the holiday season has cast a shade of sadness over the usually bright reassemblage of the teachers and pupils of the High School.

Miss Wigglesworth has been identified with the work of the High School for a number of years, and her eminent fitness for the position she occupied and the singleness of her devotian to its dutles, had won for her the admiration of her fellow teachers, as well as of the pupils, who were fortunate enough to share her instruction. Her best energies of mind and body were at the service of her class, and their advancement on the difficult path of learning her chief interest and care.

The resolutions were a beautiful memorial to her faithfulness as an instructor and to her noble character.

In our issue to-day we publish the card of Messrs. Howard Swineford & Co., the new General Agents of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. Mr. Howard Swineford, Oscar Swineford and Frank W. Danner constitute the firm. They are well educated in the important business of Insurance, having made it their study for many years.

The Equitable, it will be remembered, has done more towards liberalizing Life Insurance than any other similar institution. It inaugurated the plan of paying death claims immediately on acceptance of the proof of death of the insurance instead of waiting the customary sixty or ninety days. It also originated the Free Tontine Policy, which provides that policies become incontestable after being in force one year.

The same fully justify the distinguished renown which they enjoy, and I can only concur in the verdict of Messrs, von Bulow and D'Albert, in emphasizing that the Knabe Pianos, before all, in regard to mellow and singing (gesangvollen) tone combined with power, respond to the highest demands. These qualities united with a perfect mechanism place "The Knabe Piano" at the head of the-best American Instruments, and I again beg to express my satisfaction that I have the use of the same for my entire American tour.
